From the Amst. Courant, dated June 24.

Rome, June 4.

CArdinal Acquaviva having lost all Hopes of obtaining of the Holy Father the Expedition of the Bulls of the Archbishoprick of Seville for Cardinal Alberoni, dispatch'd on Wednesday last a Courier to Madrid, to inform the Court of his ill Success. And having afterwards sent for the Procureur, or Attorney of the Spanish Nation, he order'd him to let all the Spaniards that are in this City know, that it is the King's Pleasure they depart from hence without any Delay, under most severe Penalties, which should extend even to their Relations in Spain. Some who are in Service, and even Monks, have in vain desired to be excepted out of this Order, but the Cardinal would receive none of their Excuses, and told them, the Order was general, and without Exception. Besides the Courier above-mentioned, another was sent away to the Pope's Nuncio in Spain, but the Contents of his Dispatches are unknown. The Constable de Colonna, the Prince de Borghese, the Princede Casetta, and other Feudatories of that Kingdom, have been sent for by the Viceroy of Naples. On Wednesday Night a Cabinet Courier of France arrived here with Letters for Cardinal de la Tremouille, who, 'tis said, has brought that Court's Answer to the Project of Accommodation which his Eminence sent some time ago to Paris. On Thursday Cardinal Acquaviva began to give out Passports for those of the Spanish Nation, who are to depart from Rome forthwith, and this Day a great many of them embark'd at Ripa grande, but not without bitter Complaints at their being obliged so precipitately to be gone. 'Tis said his Eminence himself will also depart to go to Genoa or Parma.

Genoa, June 4. On Monday a French Courier pass'd by here going to Rome, who in his way deliver'd a Packet to the King of Sicily from the Duke Regent; whereupon the Court of Turin sent away two Expresses, one for Madrid and the other for London. They write from Milan the 28 Instant, that they work incessantly at Tortona in preparing Provisions and Ammunition-Bread for the Subsistance of the Imperial Troops design'd for the Defence of the Milanese.

From the Amst. Courant, dated June 25.

Schaffhuysen, June 16. 'Tis written from Paris, that Count Conigseck, the Emperour's Ambassadour at that Court, has earnestly besought the Duke Regent, that he will be pleas'd to recall the Officers and common Soldiers, and Seamen, of the French Nation, who are in the Service of the Court of Madrid against the Emperour his Master; and he declar'd that there are 1800 of those Officers, many whereof had receiv'd Money at Paris of the Prince de Cellamare for providing their Equipage. We understand that the Report which was spread, as if the Count de Luc would come again into Switzerland in the Quality of Ambassadour of France, is groundless. But on the contrary, 'tis certain the Marquis d'Avary will return with Instructions to renew the Treaty of Alliance with the Protestant Cantons, as the Count de Luc did before with the Roman Catholicks. We have Advice, that the Treaty of Peace between the Cantons of Zurich and Bern on the one Part, and the Abbot de St. Gall on the other, is signed. Most of the Protestant Cantons long to see it ratified, and applaud the Canton of Bern for their Zeal in bringing this Treaty to an End, and thereby preventing the Evils that might have ensued, especially in case some certain Foreign Powers should have thought fit to intermeddle in it. The Deputies of Bern, who have transacted this Affair, are expected the 18th. In the mean time, this Treaty has made some Diminution in the former Friendship between the two Cantons, those of Zurich being not satisfied, that what they so strenuously insisted upon was not granted.

From the Hague Courant, dated June 24.

Schaffhuysen, June 16. The Deputies of Bern have given a splendid Treat to all the other Deputies, in the House of their Canton at Baden. They were extreamly civil to one another at it, from whence it was understood, the Treaty is concluded, and is ingrossing, whereby, among other things, the Right of Collation to the Livings in Question, is regulated in such Manner, that three Clergymen shall be presented by the Cantons to the Abbot of St. Gall, out of whom he shall chuse one. The great Difference between the Abbot and the Toggenburgers, is also by this Treaty reconciled; and we just now have received Advice, that the Articles are all concluded and signed; but 'tis apprehended some Difficulties may arise in ratifying it, because the Abbot desires the Emperour should be ask'd to ratify it, which the Cantons of Zurich and Bern will hardly admit of.

From the Amst. Courant, dated June 25.

Francfort, June 19. Letters from Marpurg of the 12th Instant say, the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel was unexpectedly arrived there, and after he had reviewed his Troops, went away to Ziegenheim to do the same there. According to the Advices we have here, the Hessian Infantry, in pursuance to the Orders they had received, were two Days ago broke up from their Quarters, and march'd to the appointed Place of Incampment, to be there muster'd. In the mean time, the Commissaries of this Land are resolv'd to keep themselves together, in order to hinder the Passage of any Foreign Troops thro' our Territories, upon the Affair of Rhynfels.

Cologne, June 21. On Friday 1200 Men of Palatine Troops came to Mulheim, where they lay still, but being since reinforc'd from the Neighbouring Palatine Garrisons, they are march'd forward into the Weteraw, whither also some Munster Troops are advancing. Yesterday Prince Emanuel of Savoy departed from Aix la Chapelle for Vienna, in order to make the Campaign in Hungary.

The Accomptant General and Cashier of the Bank of England give Notice, That they are ready to receive at the Bank the Lottery Orders that were omitted to be subscribed at Whitehall for Annuities at 5 l. per Cent per Annum. That they are also ready to take in the Debentures made forth for the Debt due to the Army for Annuities at the Rate of 4 per Cent per Annum. And they desire all Persons that are still possess'd of any Orders that were subscribed, to bring them to the Bank, provided all Interest due on the said Orders to the 24th of June, 1717, be received on the same.

In Answer to a late Query, in an Appeal to the Liverymen of the City of London, Sir Wm. FAZAKERLEY doth admit, they have an undoubted Right to chuse a Chamberlain every Year; for which Reason, he humbly begs their Interest and Votes at the next Election: And as to the rest of that Advertisement, he leaves it to the worthy Citizens to judge, whether it results most from a Concern for the Publick, or the Author's great Inclination to promote his own private Interest: And as to Assertions in publick Advertisements, it is endless to answer them, which may be as numerous as the different Humours and Interest of Men can make them. Very late Instances have shewn how little Conviction this sort of Paper Controversy has wrought upon the Opponents, and how little Satisfaction it has given to the Publick. But thus much he thinks himself oblig'd to say, that in his present and late Indisposition, he has taken Care to be well represented, to prevent any Damage accrueing to the Publick; that it is easy to make a general Clamour, but if any single Instance had ever been made known to him, of any Persons suffering for want of a compleat Execution of his Office, he would have taken Care to remove the Grievance, and give such Person Satisfaction.

London, June 17, 1718.

There was Yesterday an unaccountable sort of a Paper handed about this City, Intituled, Reasons for chusing Sir H. M. Chamberlain of London, which some People think was writ by Lieut. Coll. S——. W——ll, or some of his Friends; Whoever was the Author, he forgot to acquaint his Fellow-Citizens, That on Midsummer Day last they were almost unanimously of Opinion, that King George had no Citizen more truely Loyal than Sir Harcourt Master, nor any one with whom they could more safely repose the great Trust committed to the Sheriffs of this City; And they then believed he was so very well acquainted with the Laws and Customs thereof, as to be capable of performing his Duty therein; and, if so, it cannot be doubted he will acquit himself equally well as Chamberlain, and Malice hath not been able to charge him with having done any thing, during his Sheriffalty, to forfeit the good Opinion his Fellow Citizens had of him when he was chosen: The Author likewise forgot to give one very good Reason, why Sir Harcourt, though he hath an Estate, ought to increase it, viz. For the better Provision for his Nine Children, which this Year has been very far from doing.

Query 1. How far the Citizens of London are obliged to promote the Interest of Sir H. M. to be Chamberlain of the City, for stripping that Office already of its best Perquisite?

Query 2. How far the most hearty Friends to the Government, and City Privileges, are indebted to the same Gentleman for dividing an Interest that could carry that Place for a Zealous Subject, and a worthy deserving Citizen, and hazarding thereby its being filled by some Person of a very different Complexion?

Vide St. James's Post, June 18, 1718.

Query 1. Whether the Lords of the Treasury have not an undoubted Right to appoint whom their Lordships please Receiver General of the Taxes for this City and County of Middlesex? And whether their Lordships have not shewn a Respect to the Citizens, by appointing one of their Sheriffs Receiver.

Query 2. Whether it will not be prudent in the Livery-Men to choose the same Gentleman Chamberlain, unless they can assign some Personal Incapacity? And whether he is not very well intitled to their Favour, who has been, and is now, at so great Expence of Time and Money for their Service, in the Execution of his Office.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest is humbly desired, on Midsummer-Day next, for Sir WILLIAM FAZAKERLEY, the present Chamberlain of the City of London, who humbly hopes, That the Infirmities incident to his Age, (since it hath pleased Almighty God to prolong his Life) will not by you be thought a sufficient Reason to remove him from the Office; since Experience hath demonstrated, that he hath Friends both able and willing to supply any Defect in him from that Cause, and who are ready to continue such their Assistance. He therefore humbly hopes, that his Fellow Citizens will consider his past Services, and will not add so insupportable a Weight to his present Afflictions, as the withdrawing their Kindness, at this Juncture, must necessarily lay upon him.

Lieut. Col. SAMUEL WESTALL renews his humble Request to all his Fellow-Citizens for their Interest, Vote and Poll, on Midsummer Day, to be Chamberlain of London for the Year ensuing. Who has faithfully served the Citizens of London in several Stations, both Civil and Military, above 30 Years, to his very great Expence; has been a Livery-man more than 37 Years, and in one Instance got the City upwards of 30000 Pounds.

Sir,

Your Vote, Interest, and Poll, (if needful) is desired for ANTHONY BURREN, Citizen and Mercer of London, to be Chamberlain of this City, in case the Gentlemen of the Livery shall not think fit to continue Sir William Fazakerley. He is zealously affected to his Majesty King George, and our happy Constitution both in Church and State; he hath served all Offices in Tower-Ward, and was Common-Council-Man there till he remov'd into Bishopsgate Ward, where he Fined for all Offices. He hath been a Trading Merchant above 30 Years, and is well acquainted with the Laws and Customs of the City; he hath met with great Losses both at home and abroad, and hath a Wife and 8 Children to provide for.

If the Common Hall shall think fit to proceed to the Election of a new Chamberlain on Midsummer Day next, Lieutenant Coll. JOHN PERY humbly hopes his Fellow Citizens will think him fitly qualified for that Place, and that his past Services to the publick in several Stations, may recommend him to their Favour, to be Elected, and he will diligently apply himself to the Discharge of his Duty, in the several Parts of that Office.

Sir,

Your Vote, Interest and Poll (if needful) are desired for HENRY DURLEY, Merchant and Citizen of London, to be Chamberlain of this City at the ensuing Election, whose Qualifications for so great a Trust, are well known, and who's Zeal to his Majesty King George, and the present happy Establishment is unquestionable.

SIR,

Your Vote, Interest, and Poll, (if needful) is desired for Deputy GEORGE LUDLAM, (Citizen and Wax-Chandler) to be Chamberlain of this City, who has upon all Occasions, been industrious to support the Rights and Privileges of his Fellow Citizens, and is well acquainted with the Laws and Customs of this City; and zealously affected to his Majesty King George, and our happy Constitution both in Church and State.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest is humbly desired for HENRY OWEN, Citizen and Cooper (late of the Angel and Crown Tavern behind the Royal Exchange) to be one of your Bridge-Masters, in the Room of Mr. Pitt, deceas'd. And as in Duty bound he shall ever pray, &c.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest is humbly desired for JOHN HALS, (Citizen and Painter-Stainer of London) late Mercer on Ludgate-Hill, who hath met with great Losses, and has a Wife and Children to provide for, to be one of the Bridge-Masters, there being now a Vacancy by the Death of Mr. John Pitts. And he shall ever Pray.

Sir,

Your Vote and Interest are humbly desired for Sir ROBERT DUNCKLEY, Merchant, Citizen and Haberdasher of London, (who hath had great Losses in Trade both by Sea and Land, and hath a Wife and several Children unprovided for) to be one of the Bridge-Masters of this City, in the Room of Mr. John Pitt, deceas'd.

Sir,

Your Interest, Vote, and Poll (if needful) is humbly desired for JEREMIAH MARLOW, Citizen and Goldsmith of London, (your former Petitioner) who has been Forty Years a Shop-keeper in Lombard-street, hath (long since) serv'd all the Offices in his Ward and Parish, and been Thirteen Years of the Common-Council of this City; he has a Wife and several Children unprovided for; therefore humbly prays your Favour for the Office of Bridge-Master, vacant by the Death of Mr. Pitt. N. B. This is the second time of his standing Candidate for Bridge-Master.

Sir,

Your Vote and Poll (if needful) is most humbly desir'd for MATTHEW WEST, Citizen and Goldsmith of London, to be one of the Bridge-Masters, in the Room of Mr. John Pitt, deceas'd, he being near 60 Years of Age, and his Trade very much decay'd, notwithstanding his known Industry and Frugality, he having born all the expensive Offices of his Company, has a numerous Family, having had 22 Children, four of which being under 12 Years of Age, and all wholly unprovided for.

And your Petitioner (as in Duty bound) shall ever pray, &c.
